

Intake Form

This is not an OEO Formal Complaint form.

INTAKE FORM: To file a Formal Complaint with the Office of Equal Opportunity and Title IX (OEO) you must first complete this Intake Form and submit to OEO for review. If you state a potential policy violation, you will work with an OEO Consultant to file a Formal Complaint. If you do not state a potential policy violation, you will receive a letter stating that the OEO will not be proceeding. The letter will explain this decision and give instructions on how to appeal if you disagree.

FILING A FORMAL COMPLAINT: If you state a potential policy violation in your Intake Form, the following will occur:

1. An OEO Consultant ("Consultant") will interview you.
2. Using the information you provide, the Consultant will draft a Formal Complaint, which will include a Notice of Allegations. The Notice of Allegations is a summary of the allegations that OEO will be addressing. These allegations will be potential violations of the University's Nondiscrimination policy.
3. You will be sent a draft of the Formal Complaint. If accurate, sign and return the Formal Complaint to the OEO. You MUST return the signed Formal Complaint for the OEO to proceed.
4. Once you sign and return the Formal Complaint, it is filed, and the OEO will proceed by sending the Notice of Allegations to the responding party (Respondent).

For more information, see our OEO Process Outline

INFORMAL RESOLUTION OR INVESTIGATION: There are two options to resolve a Formal Complaint:

- Informal Resolution: We work with you and the Respondent to find an agreed upon outcome.
- Investigation: We collect evidence to determine if discrimination occurred.

SUPPORTIVE MEASURES: Supportive Measures are available at any time and may resolve your issue. They are available regardless of whether you complete this Intake Form or file a Formal Complaint. To compare possible outcomes between Supportive Measures, Informal Resolution, and Investigations, please see Question 5. Request Supportive Measures by contacting OEO.

PRIVACY: If you file a Formal Complaint, your name and information you provide will be disclosed to the Respondent. In gathering evidence, the OEO may also disclose names and other information to individuals on a need-to-know basis. All individuals are informed that retaliation is prohibited. If OEO cannot disclose your name or other information related to the complaint, you will not be able to file an OEO Formal Complaint. To discuss other options for addressing the behavior, please contact OEO.

2. Type of discrimination or retaliation (if applicable)

Discrimination is treating someone differently because of any of the protected classes listed below, when such conduct adversely affects a term or condition of an individual's employment, education, living environment, or participation in a university program or activity.

Retaliation is someone trying to intimidate, threaten, coerce, or discriminate against you because you have asserted your right to be free of discrimination or sexual misconduct. It may be seen as retaliation if someone tries to intimidate or stop you from participating in an OEO investigation or hearing.

Is the behavior ongoing?    Y     N

Complaints of Title IX sex-based harassment may be filed at any time if you are participating or attempting to participate in a University program or activity. For all other types of sexual misconduct, discrimination, and retaliation complaints, the complaint must be filed within 180 days of the last discriminatory or retaliatory conduct. This timeframe may be waived by the Director for good cause.

5. OEO process and resolution

Check one or several from the below lists to indicate what resources or processes you are interested in discussing.

5a. Supportive Measures (no complaint required)

Non-disciplinary, free, individualized services, available to either party. Supportive Measures are subject to review and are not guaranteed. We will work with you to identify what is possible on a case-by-case basis.
